New York City

Dear Sir:

Undoubtedly in your great country you have often, from time to time, had many opportunities of seeing ancient and modern coins. Here, in New York City, however, has been brought together one of the finest collections from all over the world, not only of coins but of paper money, medals and decorations. It would, no doubt, be of interest to you to see this Collection, and I, herewith, beg to extend to you a warm invitation to pay our Museum a visit.

If you are interested and can find the time to inspect our Collections, would you kindly let us know a day or two in advance, so that it would be possible for us to show you our Collections in person? Many of our finest things are not always on public display, and can best be shown if we know of your intended visit in advance.

Trusting that we may have the pleasure of welcoming you to our building, I beg to remain,

Very respectfully yours,

President
